

III—GENERAL ASSEMBLY—OVERALL VOTES

This section contains tables of the 101 Plenary votes that were recorded at the 60th session of the UN General Assembly (UNGA) plus one Third Committee vote. Of these 102 votes, 74 pertained to resolutions as a whole, 24 to separate paragraphs, and four to decisions. Of the total 102 votes, the United States voted Yes 22 times and No 68 times; it abstained on 12 votes.

COMPARISON WITH U.S. VOTE

The tables that follow are based on the 90 instances the United States voted either Yes or No in Plenary and on the motion in the Third Committee. Columns show the number of times the United States and the pertinent country cast identical (Yes/Yes or No/No) and opposite (Yes/No or No/Yes) votes, as well as the number of times a country abstained or was absent for these 90 votes. Voting coincidence percentages are derived by dividing the number of identical votes by the total of identical and opposite votes, the same method used in all previous editions of this report. The column headed “Voting Coincidence (Including Consensus)” presents the percentage of voting coincidence with the United States after including consensus resolutions as additional identical votes. Extent of participation was also factored in (see Introduction: Format and Methodology).

Section III contains five parts: (1) lists of UN member states alphabetically and in rank order by voting coincidence percentage; (2) lists of countries by UN regional group, in rank order by voting coincidence percentage; (3) lists of countries by other groupings, again in rank order; (4) a comparison of 2005 votes only percentages with those of the preceding five years; and (5) a side-by-side comparison of each country’s voting coincidence with the United States and a calculation of the amount of bilateral U.S. assistance provided to that country in fiscal year 2005 (from the Foreign Operations, Export Financing, Related Programs Act and P.L. 480 funds).

All members voted during the session. The United States again voted No in Plenary more often than any other UN member (31 percent of U.S. No votes coincided with those of three or fewer countries), voting No alone on 15 occasions, which was much higher than last year. The United States voted No with only one other country seven times (twice each with Israel and Japan, and once each with India, the Marshall Islands, and Sudan). On several other occasions, the United States was joined in a No vote by Israel and one or two other countries (usually the United Kingdom, Japan, Marshall Islands, and France; Micronesia, Palau, Russia, or Uganda joined other countries with the United States once each).

The United States voted in isolation on resolutions concerning transparency and confidence building in outer space activities, trade in small arms, the Nuclear-Test-Ban treaty, the Convention to Eliminate Discrimination Against Women, rights of the child, international trade and development, unilateral economic measures, the right to food, economic interests which affect non-self-governing territories, developments in the fields of information and telecommunications, prohibition of the development and manufacture of weapons of mass destruction, environmental norms in arms control, and the relationship between disarmament and development. The United States also voted in isolation on a paragraph vote on the Convention to Eliminate Discrimination Against Women. The United States alone voted No on a decision on operational activities for development. Israel voted with the United States on resolutions regarding arms control, racism, decolonization, and the U.S. embargo of Cuba. The United Kingdom voted with the United States on resolutions on decolonization and arms control. Uganda and Japan voted with the United States on a paragraph vote on the rights of the child, while Japan voted with the United States on resolutions concerning environmental issues and racism. Marshall Islands voted with the United States on human rights issues and the U.S. embargo of Cuba. France, India, and Russia voted with the United States on resolutions concerning arms control. Micronesia voted with the United States on a resolution concerning racism; Palau voted with the United States on the Cuba embargo; and Sudan voted with the United States on a paragraph concerning the Third Conference on Least Developed Countries.

The Palestinian Authority is not a UN member and does not have voting privileges.
